

Supplementary Welfare Allowance

Supplementary Welfare Allowance is a weekly allowance paid to people who do not have enough income to meet their needs and those of their families. This is a means-tested payment.

Families who have been affected by cancer and whose income is below the Supplementary Welfare Allowance rate for their family size, may qualify for the Supplementary Welfare Allowance.

What is the rate of payment?

Who can apply?

If you have no income or your weekly income is below the Supplementary Welfare Allowance rate for your family size, a payment may be made to bring your income up to the appropriate Supplementary Welfare Allowance rate.

If you have claimed for a social welfare benefit or pension but it has not yet been paid and you have no other income, you may qualify for the allowance while waiting for the payment. However, the amount paid while you are waiting will be deducted from the arrears of your social welfare payment.
